Municipal Court Looms For Most of County

Washington C. H. and practically all of Fayette County were one step nearer the establishment of a municipal court in this city today.

The court would have jurisdiction over this city and all townships and corporations with the exception of Jeffersonville and Jefferson Township. It would supplant the police court now functioning in Washington C. H.

The Ohio Senate Monday night voted 29 to 1 to approve the bill, which creates a standard municipal court act for Ohio. It now goes before the House of Representatives and is expected to pass that body soon.

Senator Albert L. Daniels of this fifth-sixth district told the Record-Herald in a telephone conversation Monday night that there was no doubt that the bill would pass the House also, and that it was so strongly supported in both branches that it probably could be passed over a veto by the governor, if he should take such action.

Many Communities Affected

The court bill passed by the Ohio Senate increases the number of city courts in the state from 39 to 46 but does the job in only 37 sections of law compared to 1850 sections now in the statute books.

The court bill, similar to the one vetoed two years ago by Governor Lausche, sets up new courts in Parma, Euclid, Bellevue, Wooster, Bellefontaine, Cambridge, New Philadelphia, Lancaster, Washington C. H. and Franklin (Warren County).

Lausche's veto before declared the court bill failed to create uniformity in the state's municipal courts. The word "uniform" is not in the title of the bill now under consideration by the Ohio General Assembly.

The new bill provides that in territory covered by a municipal court of less than 20,000 population, a part-time judge may be elected at an annual salary of not less than $2,000. A full time judge is required in any territory of over 20,000 where such a court has jurisdiction, at a salary of not less than $4,000 per year.

College Youth Draft Revised

Student Deferments To Be Basis of Tests

WASHINGTON, April 3—(AP)—A 10-day wait is in prospect for college men who want to apply for the new aptitude test for draft deferment.

The Selective Service system said today draft boards will not have the application cards until April 12.

Local boards throughout the nation already are being flooded with requests for the cards, a Selective Service spokesman said.

In announcing yesterday that students wishing to take the tests should apply to their draft boards immediately, the agency neglected to explain that it meant immediately upon distribution of application cards to the boards April 12.

The application blanks, in the form of double postcards, already are properly addressed, to a Princeton, N. J., examining service. All the student needs to do is get his card from his draft board, fill out the required information, attach a one-cent stamp, and mail.

The tests will be given May 26, June 16 and June 30 at 1,000 schools and colleges. They will help determine whether men now in college are good enough students to merit continued deferment. High school students graduating this spring can not take the test until they get into college.

In Columbus, Selective Service headquarters said application blanks for the tests will be available at local boards after April 12. It emphasized that high school students can not take the tests. All applicants must be enrolled in college at the time of the test.

Qualifications listed for taking the test include:

1. The applicant must be registered under Selective Service and intending to request occupational deferment as a student.
2. The applicant must be under 26.
3. He must be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time college course leading to a degree.
4. He must not previously have taken the test.

Ohio Test Locations

Selective Service headquarters yesterday named 44 Ohio educational centers where college students may take aptitude tests that may result in their deferment from military service.

The tests will be given May 26, June 16 and June 30, and they will determine whether students

The job of a passenger train conductor may not be the most desirable one, but I have noticed that some conductors get a lot of life while others do their work mechanically and find it a hard task.

For instance, many of you folks who have traveled by train a great deal have come in contact with some very grouchy conductors.

You also have found others who seem to get real enjoyment out of their work, and are very friendly and helpful generally to their passengers.

The conductor who does his work mechanically and with little or no effort to be friendly finds his job not too desirable.

However, the conductor who is friendly, chats with his passengers, and has a sense of humor, finds his work a pleasure and makes things pleasant for his passengers.

I recall one time I was aboard a Hocking Valley train, headed from Logan to Gallipolis. The conductor was friendly.

After he had checked his tickets, he came and sat down in the seat with me, and we had an interesting visit.

As we were passing through Vinton County we were discussing the whole, and I said:

"A whole lot of this land is too poor to sprout white beans!"

"That's nothing," the conductor said, with a twinkle in his eyes, "the other day one of our men was out buying ties, and it came up a rain. The land was so poor he couldn't raise his umbrella."

Hospitals, Schools May Raise Charges

WASHINGTON, April 3—(AP)—The government removed from price control today the fees and other charges made for services by hospitals and educational institutions.

Price Director Michael V. DiSalle exempted the hospital charges for a period of six months, starting April 9. He said in a statement the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) will make a continuing study of hospital costs to determine whether any increase in charges made during that period is justified.

The exemption will continue indefinitely after the six month period, subject to withdrawal at any time by OPS.

DiSalle said general rate increases may be necessary to maintain adequate care and treatment for sick and injured.

In exempting educational institutions from the general price freeze, he said rates charged by private schools have little direct effect upon the cost of living.

Probe Lawyer III

NEW YORK, April 3—(AP)—Rudolph Halley, chief counsel of the Senate crime investigating committee, was reported in good condition today at Roosevelt Hospital following an operation for a bladder ailment.

Firebug Throws Town in Turmoil

GREENVILLE, Mich., April 3—(AP)—A young factory worker confessed today, state police said, that he set a series of fires that brought near-martial law to this central Michigan city last night.

One church was destroyed and another church and two downtown buildings damaged in the blazes. Total loss was estimated at $300,000. But no injuries were reported.

State police identified the man as Vernon Mevis, 21, an employee of a refrigerator plant in nearby Belding. He was nabbed last night behind a flaming Western Union building, one of the burned structures, and rushed to state police headquarters in East Lansing.

Killed by Train

XENIA, April 3—(AP)—A Pennsylvania passenger train struck and killed Charles Dan Jacobs, 32, of Fairborn today. He was walking on the tracks.

McCarley estimated that "between 40 and 50" retailers would be at the meeting.

Rowe also is to answer questions about pricing and the overall regulations.

McCarley said "it is important for their own good that all retailers affected by the regulations attend the meeting." He made it plain that the C of C was only setting up the meeting and that the OPS representatives would handle the proceedings.

The deadline for filing the price lists with the OPS office in Columbus is April 30. That is one reason, an OPS spokesman said, why a full attendance at Thursday night's meeting is hoped for.

Originally, the deadline was set for March 29, but an extension has been granted.

McCarley estimated that "between 40 and 50" retailers would be at the meeting.

Meeting Is Called For Thursday to Explain OPS Pricing

Retail merchants of the Washington C. H. area will be given a hand in preparing their price charts for compliance under Office of Price Stabilization regulations.

C. E. McCarley, secretary of the Washington C. H. Chamber of Commerce, today is setting up a meeting for these merchants for Thursday at 8 P. M. It is to be held in the Dayton Power and Light Co. auditorium.

McCarley is to preside at the meeting, but Samuel Rowe of the consumers goods division of the OPS is to be there to explain how the chart for pricing is to be prepared.

Rowe also is to answer questions about pricing and the overall regulations.

McCarley said "it is important for their own good that all retailers affected by the regulations attend the meeting." He made it plain that the C of C was only setting up the meeting and that the OPS representatives would handle the proceedings.

Tax Cut Demand By Republicans Growing Louder

Original Program Also Being Eased By Administration

WASHINGTON April 3—(AP)—Republican lawmakers today demanded a further cut in the administration's 1951 tax increase program. Already it has been scaled down from $16,500,000,000 to $10,000,000,000.

Their estimates of the additional taxes Congress is likely to vote this year ranged from $5,000,000,000 to $7,500,000,000. They declared that with entirely feasible cuts in spending, this would be enough to keep the budget balanced in the next fiscal year which begins July 1.

Rep. Reed of New York, top ranking Republican on the House ways and means committee, told a reporter "we'll be doing pretty well to raise an extra $7,000,000,000." Rep. Kean (R-NJ) thought an increase of $5,000,000,000 to $6,000,000,000 would be ample. Reps. Thomas E. Martin (R-Iowa) and Jenkins (R-Ohio) set their sights on a maximum $7,500,000,000 increase.

The Truman administration formally backed down from its original request for a two-section $16,500,000,000 revenue increase program yesterday. Secretary of the Treasury Snyder told the ways and means group a single $10,000,000,000 tax boost would suffice at least until next January.

Collections Up

He explained that tax collections have been much higher than anticipated and that actual spending has fallen behind estimates, with the result that a surplus of some $3,000,000,000 is in prospect next June 30 instead of the $2,700,000,000 deficit forecast by President Truman in his budget message last January.

But Snyder stressed the budget surplus is only temporary—"we must guard against the unwarranted conclusion that it will be maintained in the future." Although money isn't being spent as fast as was anticipated, Snyder said, total defense costs "as a result of higher prices may actually be increased."

Rep. Kean estimated $6,000,000,000 extra revenue could be gathered in by making some revision of individual income tax rates, holding the corporate tax to 50 percent, adding about $1,000,000,000 from higher excise taxes and plugging some tax "loopholes".

There is every indication any increases on individuals and in excise levies will not take effect before mid-year. It appeared almost as likely that any corporate tax boost would not be retroactive, either.

Old Bolshevik Dies

MOSCOW, April 3—(AP)—The death of Mikhail Fedorovich Vladimirov, one of the oldest Bolshevik leaders, was announced here today. He was 77.

Union Dues Hike Is Approved To Build Up Huge Strike Fund

CLEVELAND, April 3—(AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers Union fueled up its treasury with an additional $12,000,000 annual income today and touched the accelerator on its already ambitious economic and political programs.

The new revenue will come from a $1-a-month dues boost pushed through yesterday at the UAW convention. The opposition was noisy and persistent but glaringly lacking in numbers.

Actual slicing of the melon was left to a separate proposal today. But the 2,200 delegates had a good idea where the extra money was going before they approved the increase.

The delegates also knew that ten cents of each member's monthly dues was earmarked for "citizenship funds"—otherwise known as "political action".

The union leaders said this would finance campaigns to register voters, drive them to the polls and other election expenses.

Smaller portions will be used to expand union publications, for more extensive education and recreation programs and for similar purposes.

UAW President Walter Reuther already has announced plans to go after a guaranteed annual wage as the next union objective—presumably in 1955. He also has been one of labor's most outspoken critics of the Democratic administration and one of labor's leading campaigners for stepped-up political action.

Fluoroscope Presented Here

A fluoroscope formerly owned by the Fayette County Tuberculosis and Health Association was presented to the county commissioners at the annual association meeting Monday noon in the Washington Hotel banquet room.

The fluoroscope will be used in connection with the six TB clinics held during the year in the health office as well as for other uses. The tuberculosis association has owned and operated the piece of equipment for two years. Only cost to the county will be the physician charge.

Plan for Fairground Taking Form Now, Hint

Much of the confusion that has veiled the future of the Fayette County Fair for the last two years may be cleared up "within the next 10 days," Ray Brandenburg, the president of the Fair Board, said today after Monday night's regular monthly meeting of the board.

Brandenburg did not go into detail, but he intimated that a plan for the Agricultural Society to use the Fairgrounds again probably would be decided "one way or the other" in the near future.

The plan, he said without amplification, developed during the informal and unofficial talks by the county commissioners and representatives of the Fair Board.

The county commissioners have the grounds where the Fair has been held for more than half a century under lease from the heirs of Mrs. Estella Scott.

The general impression has been --although nothing official ever has been given out--that the commissioners had in mind leasing the grounds to the Agricultural Society for the Fair.

However, the term "lease" was not used in unfolding the discussion held by the Fair Board at its Monday night meeting.

Confidence Apparent

The board's confidence that something would be worked out was apparent at the meeting when it went right ahead making plans for next July's exposition.

Among the highlights of Fair planning were the booking of the WLW "Hayride" radio show for the Saturday night of the Fair. It is to replace the wrestling show that originally was contemplated.

Arrangements for the WLW Hayride show call for two performances, one at 6 P. M. would be broadcast direct from the Fairground and the other at 8:15 P. M. The shows, it was said, would be similar but not identical.

Negotiations also were completed for the outdoor advertising for the Fair. They included such as car bumper cards (but an entirely new type), billboards, placards etc.

The big item of achievement of the meeting, however, was the approval of the $2,024 budget for the Junior Fair. The budget, made up by County Agent W. W. Montgomery and his staff, was accepted without change.

One small paragraph at the end of the budget said "the Jeffersonville Girl Scouts have requested an opportunity to exhibit this year. They have not requested any set amount of money as yet." No official action was taken on that.

Most of the Junior Fair budget goes for 4-H and FFA (Future Farmers of America) premiums. Of the $2,024 total, $1,312 was set aside for these.

Other items are:

- Junior calf club (steers and heifers) $25;
- Two FFA educational booths at $15 each $30;
- Two FFA educational booths at $15 each $30;
- Eight 4-H congress delegates $15 each $120;
- Two 4-H conservation camp award at $7 each $14;
- Campfire Girls $25;
- Boy Scouts of America $35;
- Two Juvenile Grange booths at $18.75 each $37.50;
- Junior Fair appreciation dinner $100;
- Ribbons $125;
- Pictures $20;
- Judges Fees $150.

All officers of the association were unanimously reelected for the coming year. They are: Ellsworth Vannorsdall, president; W. J. Hilty, vice president; Mrs. Homer Bireley, secretary; Robert Olinger, treasurer and Frank Grubbs, representative director.

Seven new members were elected to the board of directors. They are: Robert Mitchell, Dr. Joseph M. Herbert, Mrs. Minnette Fritts, Roy Thompson, Ralph Minton, C. E. McCarley and Jeannette Haver.

The three members of the board who were reelected include: Forest Tipton, Robert Jefferson and Loren Hynes.

A report by the treasurer of the organization showed that the as-

MacArthur's Ideas About War Wanted

WASHINGTON, April 3—(AP)—Senator Bridges (R-NH) demanded today Gen. Douglas MacArthur be brought to this country temporarily to tell Congress his "ideas about ending the Korean war."

"Apparently he is the only person in authority who has any positive ideas" about ending the conflict, Bridges said in a statement. He added that MacArthur "has been muzzled by the Truman administration."

Bridges, senior Republican on the Senate armed services committee, said Americans in Korea have been fighting "with one hand tied behind their backs" because of United Nations restrictions on military operations, and he continued:

"I believe MacArthur can recommend the proper course of action. I believe the Korean war demands affirmative action. The Korean war is not going to go away if we turn our heads and pretend it is an incident."

Barbara Stanwick's Bed Brings $360 at Sale

HOLLYWOOD, April 3—(AP)—Barbara Stanwick's bed brought $360 at an auction last night.

A sportsman of nearby Pasadena bought it as household effects of recently-divorced Miss Stanwick and Robert Taylor went under the hammer.

A Beverly Hills decorator, John S. Mason, made the bid for the absent sportsman, whom he declined to identify.

Red Defenses Being Built Up In Red Korea

Light Resistance Met First as Allies Cross Deadline

By OLEN CLEMENTS
TOKYO, April 3—(AP)—American troops rolled into Red Korea in force today along a 10-mile front in their west.

Field dispatches said the crossing was aggressive but cautious and met only light resistance at the start.

These other highlights paced Tuesday's war news:

Air--American Sabre jets shot down three Russian-type Mig-15s and damaged three others in a furious battle near the Manchurian border. Other fifth air force planes pounded traffic-jammed Communist supply lines in a day-long attack against the biggest Red troop buildup of the Korean war. The Allied fighters flew 700 sorties but foul weather choked them off by late afternoon.

Eastern front--General MacArthur jeoped 13 road miles inside North Korea on the east coast. He rode within 500 yards of the main Red line north of Yangyang. There he found South Korean troops digging in, confident and talking only of attack.

Central front--American, Greek and Thai (Siamese) troops climaxed two days of heavy fighting by winning a high ridge north of Chunchon and one mile south of parallel 38. From the ridge they looked into Red Korean territory where the Communists are massing hundreds of thousands of battle-ready soldiers.

Reds Mass Forces

Chinese and North Korean Communists screening the big Red buildup pounded the Allied soldiers with mortar and artillery fire.

On his return to Tokyo from his 15th visit to the war front, MacArthur said:

"The enemy's weakness in the air and on the sea and his lack of artillery and heavy ground weapons is being beautifully exploited by our field commander."

The supreme commander jeoped across 38 about 50 miles east of the central front, while about one-half million Chinese and Red Korean combat-ready soldiers are massing for their long-expected spring offensive.

MacArthur said "factual conditions along the entire Korean front remain favorable. Our strategy remains unchanged. . . it is based on maneuver and not positional warfare."

Earlier his daily communique said the Communist commanders near the front have "a potential strength of 63 divisions, the greatest of any period of the Korean campaign."

The communique pointed to two "compensating factors" in the Communist threat: the Reds' limited supply capacity and the vulnerability of their supply lines.

The big jet air battle was fought--at altitudes from 37,000 feet down to 8,000--south of the Yalu River near the Manchurian border. Twenty-five American F-80 Shooting Stars tangled with 30 to 40 MIGs, marked on the wings with Red stars. When the F-80s, low on fuel, headed for home, U. S. Sabre jets roared into battle and chased the Russian-type jets back into Manchuria. It was the F-86 Sabre jets that scored against the MIGs.

Eisenbrey Resigns Position at WHS

Robert Eisenbrey, instructor of vocational auto mechanics at Washington C. H. High School, submitted his resignation, effective Monday, after four years service with the high school.

Supt. Stephen Brown said he was in the process of interviewing applicants for the vacant position of vocational auto mechanics instructor. An effort will be made to hire someone to handle this course of practical instruction for the balance of the semester and "carry on," according to Supt. Brown.

Eisenbrey has taken a position at Wright-Patterson Field in Dayton as a maintenance inspector.

COLUMBUS, April 3—(AP)—A prisoner hanged himself with his belt in Ohio Penitentiary last night. He was Howard Laycock, 32, of Toledo, who had been serving a one to 13-year term for burglary.

YBM Supports Kefauver Stand

Gambling Problem For Local Officers

The Young Business Men of Washington C. H., went on record Monday night backing the findings of the Kefauver committee that gambling was a problem for local law enforcement officers.

The resolution passed by the YBM states: "The YBM endorses the finding of the Kefauver committee and J. Edgar Hoover's statement to the effect that the problem of gambling is one which must be handled by local law enforcement officers."

Members of the group also voted to sponsor a "Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up" campaign in Washington C. H., during the last two weeks of April or the first week of May. The group planned to clear through the Washington C. H. Chamber of Commerce before taking on the project.

The YBM will make an effort to stage a clean-up in the business and residential areas of the city. The club will advise residents where they can put out their trash, old limbs and other waste for pick-ups.

Aim of the week will be to give the city a general spring house-cleaning. Unsightly cans, rubbish and tree limbs will be removed. There is a possibility that this city might enter into competition with other cities for the title of the best looking town in the United States.

Bob Wise was named chairman of the committee which will plan the campaign. Named to his committee were the following: Donald Murdock, Neil Hercules, Walter Coil, Jack Coffey, James Hutton, Ray Graft, Lawrence Burris, Hal Summers and Sam Atkey.

The committee will meet in the near future to lay plans for the drive and select a time to hold it. Named from the general membership of the YBM to the executive committee which will screen YBM projects and meet at emergency sessions were Brooks G. Trueblood, Bob Green and Donald Murdock. Other members of the committee are past presidents and present officers.

Harry Ferguson To Be Installed Here

Harry Ferguson will be installed as Exalted Ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks No. 129 Wednesday at 8 P. M. in the lodge hall.

Other officers of the lodge who will be installed at that time will be: Leo Fisher, Est. Lead. Kt.; David Roe, Est. Lead. Kt.; Darrell Williams, Est. Lect. Kt.; G. D. Baker, trustee for a three year period; C. S. Smith, secretary; Gene Nisley, treasurer and C. S. Kelley, Tiler.

Ferguson will be the delegate to the grand lodge convention with outgoing Exalted Ruler J. F. Loudner as the alternate.

G. B. Rodgers and W. A. Passmore will be in the installing officers.

Union FB Council Discusses Roads

The Union Township Farm Bureau Council No. 1 favors getting county roads back into shape so that they can be used without danger to equipment and tires.

"Our Roads" was the topic of a discussion held at the council meeting Monday night.

It was pointed out that roads are necessary for farmers in getting their produce to market.

It was recommended that those who use the roads should finance the repairs. A bill before the Ohio General Assembly which calls for a ton-mile tax met with favor from the group.

More rigid enforcement of load weight laws and better road construction is favored.

The council favors leaving the care and upkeep of township roads to the township trustees.

The meeting was preceded by an "April Fool" supper which had many surprises. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Rhoads May 7.

Maynard Kruger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Kruger, 401 Gregg Street, who is a senior student at the Spartan College of Aeronautics, in Tulsa, Oklahoma, is recovering nicely from an emergency appendectomy performed in Hillcrest Hospital, in Tulsa, Thursday March 29. He will receive his degree from the college at the close of the spring term.

Mrs. George F. Bainter of Washington C. H. has received an invitation from the prospective commanding officer of the U. S. Cascade a repair ship, to attend the recommissioning of that ship Thursday at the U. S. Navy Yard at Philadelphia, Pa. Her husband, Metalsmith First Class George Bainter, is serving aboard the vessel. He was recalled to active duty Jan. 14, 1950.

Second Ward Civil Defense Plans Made

Plans have been made to bring the civilian defense program directly into homes in the second ward.

A meeting was held at 7:30 P. M. Monday for the purpose of outlining the civil defense program which will be followed in that part of the city.

George Inskeep, ward chairman, outlined the civilian defense program being carried out in the city and discussed with the precinct captains and block men ways and means of taking the program to the people.

Don Gibson, a coordinator of the program, gave some helpful suggestions and information concerning the work.

The block men expect to start making calls in the neighborhoods immediately.

Grain Market

CHICAGO, April 3.—(P)—Wheat dipped sharply toward the close of today's Board of Trade session, after prices had ambled around near yesterday's close most of the day.

Corn and oats resisted the late selling in wheat. Traders said there was nothing in the news to promote the late selling, and that it appeared to be some longs unloading.

Earlier in the session, there was some buying in corn by commission houses.

Barley: nominal; malted 1.60-83; feed 1.50-53. Soybeans: none.

Financial Market
NEW YORK, April 3.—(P)—Stock prices found limited support in today's market, but progress proved difficult. A few leaders edged forward narrowly with the aid of some buying of railroad, steel and motor shares. Rubber and radio-television issues joined in the upward and that times, but chemicals and a few others were laggards.

Most changes were measured in cents. Trading held to the halting pace of recent sessions.

The Nation Today

By CHARLES MOLONY
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON, April 3 —(P)—A 63-year-old lawyer or doctor or farmer earning as much as $25,000 a year can do better, financially, by chucking his career and going to work for somebody else at $3,600 a year.

That may sound crazy, but it's true -- assuming our man has made up his mind to quit working and take life easy when he's 65. The government has stacked the cards for it to come out that way, so it's perfectly legal, too.

The reason it comes out that way lies in the income tax law and certain changes in the Social Security law that took effect Jan. 1 under an act passed by Congress and signed by President Truman last Aug. 28.

Here's the pitch, which we'll develop in detail in a moment:

By taking a $3,600-a-year-job as a clerk or something of the sort for 18 months, our man can qualify for a bigger monthly income from the government after retirement than he would get by keeping his "big pay" job and buying an annuity.

If he's single, the 18 months of clerking will get him $80 a month for life under the government-run Old Age and Survivors Insurance (OASI) program. If he has a wife of his own age, they'll get $120 a month together.

He could hardly do as well on an annuity bought out of his savings over an 18 month period as a doctor, lawyer or farmer unless, as a single man, he was earning over $15,000 a year or, as a married man, over $25,000.

Now let's see why that is so. Self-employed lawyers, doctors, farmers (and some others) aren't covered by the Social Security law, or more particularly the OASI provisions; they don't pay in any of the "taxes" for it, and they don't get any benefits, either.

For anyone to become eligible for OASI benefits, he must work in a "covered" job for a certain length of time, the span depending upon his age.

A man or woman under 45 years old would have to work at least ten years in a "covered" job to qualify for a benefit upon reaching 65. But people now aged 62 or older need have such a job for only 18 months.

Eighteen months' work will do for our man, all right, but to make matters simple and precise let's say he and his wife both turned 63 last Jan. 1 and he arranged to start his clerical job next July 1.

That will assure the couple the maximum benefit because he will have worked the 18 months immediately preceding his 65th birthday at $300 a month, which is all he needs to do to assure them the full $120 a month top-size benefit.

During his 18 working months, he will pay a tax of 1½ percent of his pay for government Old-Age and Survivors Insurance and his employer will match it. Each will pay $4.50 a month on his $300 monthly wage, or $81 each for the entire 18 months.

The first month's benefit checks to his wife and himself will more than make up the cash he paid to qualify for benefits.

Now let's see what our man would have to do to come out as well as he keeps on being a lawyer or doctor or farmer during the period from next July 1 to birthday anniversary number 65 on Jan. 1, 1953.

The first question is how much cash he would have to lay down to get an annuity that would bring a monthly benefit as big as the government offers him.

Board and Room

By Gene Ahern

A government statistician who has checked it out with private financial institutions says it would cost our man about $11,500 cash to get $80 a month for life if he's single, or about $22,000 to get the $120-a-month deal for himself and wife.

(Insurance actuaries or statisticians work it out by taking into account the annuity applicant's additional years of "life expectancy," the interest the company can earn on sums it holds, its cost of bookkeeping, etc.)

To get that much cash together in an 18 month period, he'll have to earn a much larger total in this day of high incomes taxes and high living costs.

To keep everything even let's say our man (and wife) lives on the approximately $3,000 a year he would have for living expenses --after federal income and OASI taxes--if he took the $3,600-a-year job.

To amass $11,500 cash savings in 18 months, our man, if single, would have to be earning at the rate of over $15,000 a year. His federal income tax on $15,000 would be about $4,500 and with living costs $3,000, he would have only $7,500 left for a full year or $11,250 for the 18 months we're talking about.

To amass $22,000 cash savings in 18 months, our man, if married, would have to be earning at the rate of over $25,000 a year. Income tax on $25,000 would take about $7,700 and, with living costs $3,000, he would have only $14,300 left for a full year or $21,450 for the 18 months.

Band Concert Sellout Looms

A sellout for the spring concert of the WHS band today appeared a foregone conclusion.

The reserved seat plat was opened Saturday and now, after two days, there were only a few scattered seats--29 to be exact--left on the main floor and less than half of the second balcony.

The concert, to be given in the high school auditorium Friday night, is to be very much along the same pattern as concerts of previous years, Bandmaster Wil-ham B. Clift, said as the final stamp of approval was placed on the program.

The 100 boys and girls in the band started practicing for the concert right after the football season ended last fall when they made the change-over from a marching band to a concert band.

That meant new techniques and new music--and it all had to be memorized because the WHS band plays without music.

The program, now in its final draft, is marked by the variety that has made the concerts in the past so popular.

Marches, the typical band music, predominate, but there are some classics and novelty numbers. There also are several solos, including one vocal, and a trombone trio.

Sellouts for the spring concerts are customary.

Commend Kefauver

SANDUSKY, April 3 —(P)—Some 500 delegates to the Ohio district brotherhood of the American Lutheran church's annual convention voted in closing session here yesterday to commend the Kefauver committee. They urged fellow churchmen to support local law enforcement officers in combating commercialized crime.

March Weather Nearly Normal, Report Shows

March ended with about the usual average temperature and with rainfall somewhat above normal.

This is disclosed in the summary made by U. S. Weather Observer Coyt A. Stooker.

The summary shows the temperature ranged all the way from 16 above zero on March 19 to 72 degrees on the 29.

The mean minimum temperature was 39.9 degrees, compared with a normal average of 40.06 degrees.

The mean maximum was 50.3 degrees and the mean minimum was 29.6 degrees.

Rainfall for the month was 4.93 inches or .74 of an inch above normal.

A few snows occurred during the month, but there was not as much wind as usual during March.

Rainfall during the month greatly retarded farm work, particularly plowing, and also the picking and the husking of corn.

Manpower Being Wasted on Federal Payroll

The increase in the hiring of civilian employees by the federal government goes merrily on.

As one Washington, C. H., business man said to us recently, the talk about government desire for economy is mostly "hot air", aside from a very few sincere members of Congress who see where the nation is drifting.

The theory on which the national administration operates seems to be so politically-minded that it has no desire to cut expenses. Leaders hold the view that the public forgets this economy talk in a short time and is interested only in "how much do we personally get out of it?"

The administration already is facing a crippling shortage of manpower in the all-out war mobilization effort in several industries.

The non-military government bureaus that ought to be reduced, actually are expanding fast. Their personnel now approximately equals the total number in the military services.

Reports show that the federal civilian payroll now has passed the 2,300,000 mark, according to civil service records. The total in all our military services is about 2,500,000.

Never before has any government found it necessary to maintain one civilian worker in the administrative bureaus for each man in the military service. At the employment peak of World War II, in 1943-45, there was one civilian employee on the federal payroll for every six men in the armed services. Today, this ratio is roughly 1 for 1. The Missouri politician, knows how to make political jobs out of a war.

There are so many workers tumbling over each other in the treasury department, according to Congressman Porter Hardy's report for the subcommittee on expenditures in the executive department, that it costs $7.06 every time the treasury department makes an average purchase of $20.00.

The average cost in the Bureau of the Mint is $13.98 per purchase order, and in the Coast Guard it is $23.94. In the Office of Education, the personnel spend nearly as much of the taxpayers' money on themselves every time they send $31,148 in federal aid back to the people it came from in the first place.

In the Bureau of Indian Affairs there is one civilian federal payroller for every 30 Indians. Here the payrollers spend nearly as much of the taxpayers' money on themselves as they do on the Indians. If we taxpayers would do away with all but a necessary minimum of federal employees, their rent, paper, travel and other expenses and just send the money direct, the Indians could all live in comparative luxury. Then the federal employees could go produce for themselves instead of living on us.

We won't even mention the incredible story of the state department in this regard. The increase there has been astounding.

Senator Byrd of Virginia says that a sweeping reduction of 150,000 in the civilian personnel of the military departments would strengthen, rather than weaken the whole defense effort. It is all so bad that if President Truman's 1952 budget of $71½ billions should be approved by Congress, 500,000 more civilian payrollers would be added during the next sixteen months. The average wage is $3,678 per year.

Few things are more precarious these days than the independence of a little country with a lot of oil.

Those who in Columbus' day insisted the world was flat must have been clairvoyant and have had 1951 in mind.

For centuries the Chinese fought among themselves. Now they have branched out and may have taken in too much territory.

The average gardener, as usual, probably will overdo radishes because they are easy to produce.

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Nature has done everything possible to render movement of the joints easy and frictionless. One aid to this goal is found in the many little fluid-filled sacs located around the joints. Normally they serve the purpose of cushioning joint movement but, if inflamed, they become trouble makers, causing the painful condition known as bursitis.

Bursitis most frequently affects the shoulder and knee joints. A common type is that known as housemaid's knee in which the inflammation is due to injury from the pressure exerted during long periods of kneeling.

Bursitis may be an added feature of gout or arthritis. Infections of various kinds may cause pus to form in a bursa, but the most common type is probably due to the formation of an excessive amount of fluid in the bursa. The first symptoms of bursitis are pain and limitation of movement. X-ray examination will usually show abnormal changes, consisting of deposits of lime salts in the bursa. In most cases there is also tenderness in the affected area. As a general rule, there is no disturbance in the sensation of the arms or legs, nor is there any muscle weakness.

Three methods of treatment are employed in bursitis. These include X-ray irradiation, surgical removal, and injection of a local anesthetic or pain-relieving substance into the affected area. A course of four or five X-ray treatments seem extremely helpful. After each X-ray treatment the pain may become worse for a time. However, in most cases, within a few weeks after the last treatment, the pain vanishes and does not return. If the X-ray treatments do not produce relief, the injections of local anesthetics should be tried. Should this threatment fail, surgical removal of the affected bursa may be required.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
L. B. A.: Is prolapse of the rectum common in infants? What can be done to help this condition?

Answer: This condition is not a common one. Prolapse of the rectum in a child frequently can be cured by merely putting on a bandage which holds the rectum in place, and by building up the child's general condition. The bandage can be applied so that it holds the buttocks together, but at the same time does not obstruct the passage from the bowels.

It is also important that the child sit on a small toilet seat and that his feet be supported when he is on the toilet. Constipation should be prevented by the use of the correct diet, and mineral oil, if necessary.

If the method suggested does not overcome the difficulty, an operation to correct the condition may be required.

Big Problem: How To Face Monday

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK—(AP)—Facing the prospect of the atom bomb isn't as important to the average man as a more simple problem—how to face Monday.

This is the greatest problem of our civilized age.

No weekend is long enough to refresh a man for the task of starting another week all over again.

It is written in the Good Book that the Lord created the world in six days and on the seventh day he rested. There is no record, however, that after taking that first Sunday off he came back the next Monday and created another world.

One was enough for him. He retired.

Unfortunately, his children have got to go on building. The world they are working on is never finished. They never quite get the blocks together. They don't fit.

It doesn't make much difference what kind of a small pattern they are trying to achieve. They may be trying to sell five motor cars by Saturday, write a perfect four-line poem, or finish an inventor. The chances are there are a few tag ends of doing that are left over to be completed in the new week.

So there is old blue Monday to greet them, saying "well, kid, here's a new week starting and you are still up to your hip bones in the debris of last week."

I am convinced Monday is a conscience day. It is the day of guilt. It is the day when duty blows a reluctant bugle and calls mankind back from elfin adventure. It is the day pumpkin, and Mister Everyman goes back into harness.

Whatever magic ignited the weekend is gone. It is replaced by that tired old gray ghost called responsibility. He bestrides us all, and we go back to work a bit saddle-sore.

The hired man limps to his task, the boss crotch in vexed. The beautiful stenographer wears circles under her lovely lamps. All are refugees from yesterday together. All tarry longer than usual over their morning coffee, and each regards this new week before him as suspiciously as if it were a deck of marked cards.

Tuesday... Wednesday... Thursday... there are days of strength... the summit of the week. And, of course, Friday is a bonfire of expectancy, the prelude to glory. Anybody can get through Friday. Your mind can always crawl through Friday on its knees because it knows that at five thirty o'clock it can climb to its feet and run to freedom.

But old dirty, no-good Monday is a sad sack date on everybody's calendar. It is the leading candidate for the title of "The Day The Week Could Do Best Without!"

Confession by Sumner Welles

By George Sokolsky

Sumner Welles returns to public controversy after a prolonged illness attending the curious circumstances of his departure from the state department. His resurrection is ushered in by a book, "Seven Decisions That Shaped History," and by the chairmanship of a letterhead organization "Freedom International."

The book is extraordinarily controversial, attacking Cordell Hull, Herbert Hoover, General George Marshall and about everybody else, except Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Sokolsky reads the book, I could not help recalling that Sumner Welles was in the state department in extremely important positions from 1933 to 1943 and that he did not speak up at the time to alert the American people. He has waited until 1951 to tell us what we should have known when the mistakes were being made by his own state department.

For instance, he says: "In China the Nationalist government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek remained in power. There was good reason to assume that with the pledged support of the Soviet Union and of the United States it would gradually overcome the opposition of the Chinese Communists and consolidate its authority over a United Nation."

That, of course, is absolute nonsense and is written only to defend, by implication, the shameful conduct of Roosevelt at Tientsin and Yalta. Welles knows that Chiang broke with the Communists in 1927 in such a manner that no peace between them could ever be possible.

Writing of Roosevelt's troubles with Chiang Kai-Shek, Sumner Welles says: "...The repeated -- and, it must be admitted, bungling -- efforts of several of President Roosevelt's representatives in China to persuade Chiang Kai-Shek to comply with the demands of the Chinese Communists were productive of misunderstanding, and damaged the prestige and authority of the Nationalist government."

"Likewise the profound ignorance of China and the lack of Far Eastern experience, of certain of the president's representatives there served him in ill stead. These envoys spent much of their time quarreling with each other, or with their subordinates; and, while I know of no instance where they did not try to carry out the president's instructions to further the establishment of a strong postwar China, their erroneous judgment and the wide diversity of their recommendations made it impossible for him to obtain any accurate over-all estimate of the situation."

This is important evidence and has often appeared, in one form or another, in this column, but from Sumner Welles, it is of greater value because he was running the state department when many of the mistakes were made. And he gives no names, no facts, no details. Who are these advisers? Is one of them, perchance, Owen Lattimore or Lauchlin Currie?

Roosevelt, according to Welles, was not only confused by his advisers concerning his China policy, but by General George Marshall concerning the over-all war strategy. Marshall being, according to Welles, incorrect in his information and his decisions.

Welles does not give details as to who it is that made these mistakes. Are we still being governed by the men who were, in his opinion, all wrong? They have, to date, cost us 60,000 casualties. Are they still determining our policy? If you look at the dates, General George Marshall and Dean Acheson made the worst mistakes, but Sumner Welles does not say who advised them regarding Far Eastern affairs.

Again Sumner Welles, defending Roosevelt, says:

"At the Cairo conferences with the Generalissimo and Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, the president had at his side no expert adviser on Far Eastern affairs. At Yalta also such advice was lacking. If the president had had with him at those two conferences so authoritative and keen-minded an expert on Far Eastern affairs, for example, as Dr. Stanley Hornbeck, who had for many years been the state department's political adviser on the Far East, a number of defects in the Cairo and Yalta agreements on Asia might well have been avoided."

This is a correct view but incomplete. Roosevelt did have advisers at Cairo and certainly at Yalta. General George Marshall was at Cairo as was General Wedemeyer. At Yalta, President Roosevelt's expert on Far Eastern affairs was Alger Hiss.

What we need to know from Sumner Welles is, who confused President Roosevelt, who appointed the quarrelsome, contending people who gave him, as Welles says, bad advice? We want names. We want responsibility. Who appointed Hiss? Now that Sumner Welles has written this confession, let him come clean.

Fox Bounties Total $495

First Gray Fox Feet Presented Recently

During the past year the county paid $495 for 198 foxes killed in Fayette County.

The county pays $2.50 for each fox killed, and this has materially reduced the fox population during the past few years.

So far this year 30 foxes have been killed, and their feet presented to claim the bounty.

The feet must be cut off and shown to Sheriff Orland Hays, who inspects them and then issues an order on the county auditor, who in turn issues a voucher. The amount is paid by the county treasurer.

A few days ago Joe Bryan of the Good Hope community presented the feet of two gray foxes, which he reported he killed in Fayette County.

The gray foxes are more abundant in the hill areas, but a few are found in southern Fayette County.

Sheriff Hays said that so far as he recalled the feet were the first gray fox feet presented to claim the bounty since he has been sheriff.

The bounty on foxes was authorized by the county commissioners when complaints were made that foxes were killing many chickens, pheasants, quail and other birds.

Dear Editor:
I have noticed that the jet planes are flying over the city again today.

It made me think of the articles in your paper concerning the attitude of the people toward these planes and complaints that have been made.

But I sometimes wonder if these people in this fair city ever stop to realize that they should be thankful that these planes are the planes of their own U. S. government.

They should be thankful that they are not enemy planes with loads of bombs.

Perhaps the officials at the various airfields do not direct these planes on their routes, and then again maybe they have specific courses to fly that leads them across Washington C. H.

Oh, I realize that it would be dangerous if one of them should happen to crash. I know, I myself, shudder when they go over, and the noise invariably will wake my baby up, but I know we would all shudder more if they were enemy planes.

Again I say I am thankful that we people have these planes to protect us, if we should be attacked.

Dear Editor:
I wish to personally take this opportunity to thank you for the fine editorial in the issue of March 28th, regarding the gambling situation in our nation and county. I am sure that all church people and many others will stand by you in your effort to better conditions in our community.

If the Kefauver committee revealed anything, it was that no community and no public official is beyond the influence of this nation-wide menace.

It is indeed shocking to learn that our fair county has more slot machines in operation than any one of 19 other counties in this section of the state. This fact alone should stir our citizens to action.

I am therefore, urging my people to study our local situation; to become aware of the size of the gambling menace in Fayette County; to urge the proper enforcement of the law upon the officials in charge. I also urged that any who may look upon these games as a simple pastime, stop to recognize them as games of chance and straight out gambling. All who play these machines should realize that they are helping to support a vast and vicious business that undermines the well being of others.

Trusting that you will continue your efforts in this matter and assuring you of my personal support, I am

Dear Sir:
"Let your light shine before men that they may see your good works and glorify your father who is in heaven."

In reply to your editorial on "What Do You Think?" The Washington C. H. WCTU is going on record as objecting to all and any type of gambling and crime going on in Fayette County.

These are perilous times and we think of America as being the best country in which to live.

Realizing the effect of all the crime that has recently come to light in Washington D. C., it behooves us, in behalf of making Fayette County and America a better place in which to live, to recognize that it is high time for some action to be taken.

What about our children? They are being reared in a world of crime. Bible school is not compulsory and if they do attend they only have a half hour of religious training per week. What is wrong with our school board? Why can't we have Scripture reading and prayer each morning in our schools. That would be the only chance for a large majority of the children of our county to have any spiritual guidance.

J. Edgar Hoover says, "there are sufficient laws in every state and every community to put an end to law violations." If that be the case what is wrong with officials who were so earnestly put in office to direct the thinking public.

We wonder how many people in our country bow their heads in shame when we read more tax paid on return from slot machines in Fayette County than in any other of 19 in this section.

We beg of our city manager, Mr. W. W. Hill, our chief of police, Vaiden Long and our sheriff, Orland Hays, to take immediate steps to clean up Fayette County and make this a better place to live.

Just as surely as God has turned on localities as Sodom and Gomorrah, we might find ourselves in just such a predicament.

Code of Ethics

fresh batch of letters, cheering Fulbright for his fight for honesty in government and echoing his fear that political corruption is eating away the moral strength of the government.

Looking at these letters, there is no doubt Fulbright touched on a subject that is worrying many people when he asked for a commission "to consider the problem of ethical standards of conduct in public affairs."

And like the man from Weatherford, Texas, Fulbright is certain there are "enough good men left" to start a cleanup by pointing the way to a more rigid standard of conduct for public officials.

Fulbright chose carefully the names of ten men whom he would like to see on the commission. He called them "private citizens of outstanding achievement and character, whose integrity is beyond question."

Who are these men that Fulbright would trust with the task of laying down rules of conduct for public officials? What quality do they have in common that caused the senator to choose them? Here are the ten on Fulbright's honor roll of honest men:

Former Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts, 75, former Chancellor Robert Hutchins, 52, of the University of Chicago.

Paul Hoffman, 59, director of the Ford Foundation; Walter Reuther, 43, president of the giant CIO United Automobile Workers of America; former Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., 56, of Wisconsin; Judge Learned Hand, 79, of the second circuit court of appeals; Dr. Rinhold Niebuhr, 58, professor at Union Theological Seminary; Dr. Theodore Greene, 54, professor of philosophy at Yale; Everett Ross Clinchy, 55, president of the Conferences of Christians and Jews, and the Rev. Wilfred Parsons, 64, professor at Catholic University.

Asked why he chose these ten as the type of men he would like to see on the commission, Fulbright said:

"I suppose the best word would be—honesty. They're honest men. They have a conscience and they follow it. They are not men who seek merely to please. They are willing to fight for their convictions. They have integrity."

But can ten men formulate a code of ethics which would have any effect in the hard and cynical world of politics?

Fulbright concedes he may be called naive even to think that a code of ethics would have any influence. But he is convinced there must be some guidepost to correct conduct in that shadowy field of activity at the edge of the law.

"We have laws to cover outright bribery, theft, and other things that we all know to be it is bribery when a government dishonest," Fulbright said. "But official accepts free room and board at a plush hotel from someone who wants something from him? I don't know—but I do know it's wrong."

Fulbright believes a commission could agree on a code of ethics which—if backed by public indignation—would be a club to force public officials to watch their conduct more closely.

And judging by the mail he is receiving—a lot of Americans feel the same way.

HADACOL Relieves The Cause Of Stomach Distress, Aches and Pains, Weak, Run- Down Conditions and Nervousness When Due to Deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron

Why Settle for Symptomatic Relief When HADACOL Can Help People With Such Deficiencies?

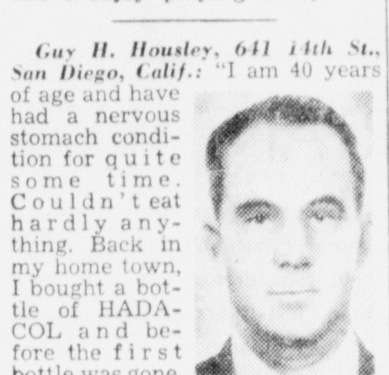

Don Pablo, famous orchestra leader, 15319 Vaughan, Detroit 23, Mich.: "Since I broke my wrist I had been suffering with pains, especially when the weather changed, and it seemed that nothing would alleviate it until recently I tried HADACOL, and I was amazed by the results. Now I always keep a bottle to replace the empty. Being a bandleader and pianist where my wrist is essentially used, I am very grateful to HADACOL. Now I can bring to the public the music they enjoy and I enjoy playing it myself."

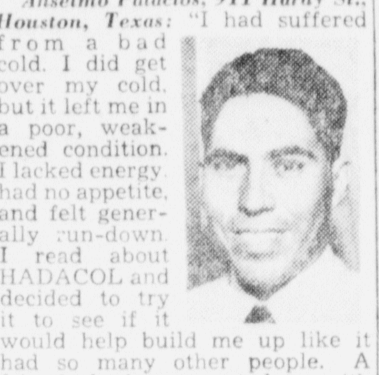

Mrs. Douglas A. Catrett, P. O. Box 354, Rt. 3, Mobile, Ala.: "I have a good word to say about HADACOL for it certainly seems a miracle to me. My son, Wayne, who is eight years old, was considerably underweight—in fact, he wore a size four shirt. Someone suggested that I give him HADACOL. After taking four large bottles Wayne is no longer underweight. Now he gets up early and he has a good appetite. . . . he eats lettuce, cabbage, carrots and greens. He hasn't missed a day from school. Thanks to HADACOL."

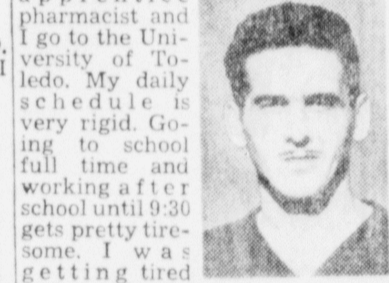

Guy H. Housley, 641 14th St., San Diego, Calif.: "I am 40 years of age and have had a nervous stomach condition for quite some time. Couldn't eat hardly anything. Back in my home town, I bought a bottle of HADACOL and before the first bottle was gone, I could tell a difference. Then I came to San Diego and couldn't get it here. I sent back to Atlanta for it. Now, thank God, they have it on the market here and I have a supply in my house. Not only that, but I'm telling all my friends what HADACOL has done for me. I sleep well, eat anything I can get and feel wonderful. I could go on and on praising HADACOL, it's done so much for me."

Anselmo Palacios, 911 Hardy St., Houston, Texas: "I had suffered from a bad cold. I did get over my cold, but it left me in a poor, weakened condition. I lacked energy, had no appetite, and felt generally run-down. I read about HADACOL and decided to try it to see if it would help build me up like it had so many other people. A friend of mine presented me with a bottle and I began to take it. Very soon I noticed an improvement in the way I felt. I began to eat better and regain my energy and strength. I continued taking HADACOL and soon felt fine. I am still taking HADACOL and am going to continue taking it for I believe that by continuous use of this wonderful HADACOL that I will keep on feeling fine. I not only take HADACOL—my family takes it, too. We cannot praise it enough."

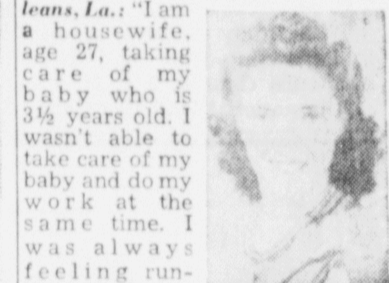

Richard Krabill, 3118 Murfield Road, Toledo 11, Ohio: "I am an apprentice pharmacist and I go to the University of Toledo. My daily schedule is very rigid. Going to school full time and working after school until 9:30 gets pretty tiresome. I was getting tired and run-down keeping pace with all I had to do. Being married and having a family, I am compelled to work after school. I work in a pharmacy here in Toledo. After selling HADACOL here in the store I decided I'd try it. You have no idea how much it has picked me up. I'm telling you truthfully, HADACOL is the answer to all my tiredness."

Mrs. L. A. Stubbs, R. N. Route 3, Box 204, Mendenhall, Mississippi: "I have been giving HADACOL to my two children, ages five and seven. They did not eat as they should. Since giving them HADACOL they feel better and eat more than they have in a long time."

Mrs. Frank P. Martino, 5524 Wickfield Drive, Apt. B, New Orleans, La.: "I am a housewife, age 27, taking care of my baby who is 3½ years old. I wasn't able to take care of my baby and do my work at the same time. I was always feeling run-down and very nervous until I tried taking HADACOL. Well, believe me, I have only been taking it for two and a half months and have experienced a wonderful change for the better. I don't feel nervous or run-down any more. I feel and eat a lot better. Thanks to HADACOL."

from sitting up late at night doing homework after I come home from work. I'm doing my best to recommend HADACOL to the customers I wait on here in the store who complain of circumstances that equal mine. Already I have won customers on HADACOL in the short time I have been taking it."

SENATOR DUDLEY J. LeBLANC, Whose Tireless Efforts For Relief Of Suffering Have Brought Humanity Today's Great HADACOL

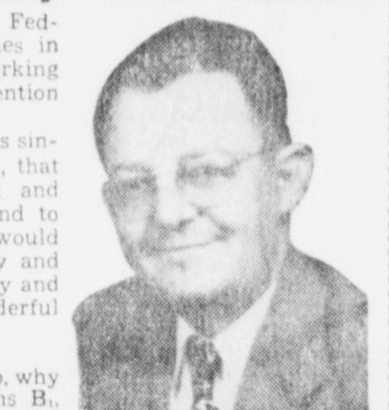

Senator LeBlanc in all of his political activities has always championed the cause of the oppressed, and the poor and underprivileged.

He was the first candidate for Governor to advocate a specific Old Age Pension. . . . and today in Louisiana, he is known as the Father of the Old Age Pension. In the course of his long, lone fight he has had his critics, but to those who opposed him he has continually stated, "If you do not believe in Old Age Pensions, remember the mandate of the Lord Himself—'Honor thy Father and thy Mother that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.'"

Senator LeBlanc is known as a friend of the veterans. He introduced and successfully passed the law that created the State Service Commissioner whose duty it is to see that every service man receives his just compensation from both State and Federal governments. His activities in public life in behalf of the working man are too numerous to mention here.

It was only natural that in his sincere desire to serve the people, that Senator LeBlanc would seek and find a product that would tend to assist the poor and ailing, that would help them lead a more happy and contented life. His tireless study and effort resulted in today's wonderful HADACOL.

Why Wait? Why experiment, why give up, why suffer from a lack of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin? Why not make up your mind to start taking HADACOL today with the positive assurance that it will help you if you suffer such deficiencies or the Senator will gladly send back your money. You have to be satisfied, and since Senator LeBlanc has proven by his past activities that he is your friend, you know you can depend on what he says and what he does. Ask for HADACOL now. Trial size, $1.25; large family economy size, $3.50.

Bowling Tourney Here Is Topped by Wilmington Team

The B. W. B. quintet of Wilmington today held the team championship of the Washington C. H. Bowling Association while its individual members looked forward to adding to their laurels next week end when the doubles and singles events of the annual tournament are rolled at Bowland.

The B. W. B. girls took over first place in the team events of the tourney when they racked up a total of 2790, including a handicap of 624.

In the second place were the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home bowlerettes of Washington C. H. They tallied a total of 2755, with a handicap of only 471.

Third place was taken by the Wilmington Pattern Workers with 2701 (handicap 612), fourth position went to Anderson's Drive-inners of Washington C. H. with 2698 (handicap 507).

The Wilmington teams became eligible to participate in the tournament when their own bowling alleys were burned out early in the season. Since the fire, they have been using the Bowland lanes here. When they started using the alleys here they were admitted to membership in the Washington C. H. Bowling Association.

Schoolboy Boxing Tournament Opens with Little Kids in Ring

THIS WAS AN EXTRA ADDED attraction on the schoolboy boxing-wrestling tourney's opening program Monday night. Billy Pierson, son of Coach and Mrs. Fred Pierson, facing the camera under a glove pushed by Jerry Warner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Warner. The two boys are next door neighbors on South Main Street. Neither is in school yet. (Record-Herald photo)

It was a big night for the little kids...they got a chance to work off some of that excessive exuberance of budding masculinity when they stuck their little fists in what looked like feather ticks and flailed away at each other in the opening show of the annual city school boxing-wrestling tournament in the WHS gym Monday evening.

They had a lot of fun. They felt very big. Nobody got hurt. There was only one bloody nose.

And, the kids, were not the only ones who had a big time. The bleacher seats on the main floor were almost filled to capacity with laughing and yelling onlookers. It was one of the biggest, turnouts ever for a tourney opener.

While the ring technique might not be even a reasonably accurate facsimile of the real thing, the battlers did not lack for spirit or the will to mix it up.

The gloves were big soft 12-ounce things, almost as big as the heads of the little boxers. Regulation professional gloves weigh only half as much and are less than half as big.

ALL OF THE WINNERS were decided by the judges—John

Lion Baseball Team Gets First Outdoor Practice for Opener

The weather was not exactly ideal for baseball, but the WHS team did not have time to wait for ideal conditions.

For, they face their season's opener here Friday at 4 P. M. when London's Red Raiders are to come here to pull the curtain back at Wilson Field.

The Lion baseball outfit has not been able to get in much outdoor work this spring because of the chilly winds and rain. But, Monday afternoon, with the opener less than a week away, they disregarded the weather and took to the field.

It was not much of a workout as workouts go, but it did help. That much Coach Fred Pierson did admit.

About all the boys got in some fungo hitting to the fielders and some of what is known to the crack as "pepper games", this is throwing the ball around the field. The diamond was too wet to work on.

A squad of 20 turned out for the first drill that even resembled a practice. On it are 11 boys who had experience last year when the Lions finished in second place in the SCO League race.

Places now have to be figured out for Kenny Robinette, Ivan Blair, Bob Alkire, Jack Rettig, Fred Brandenburg, Lloyd Arnold, Dave Sheidler, Allen Grillo, Walter Plymale, Dale Dawson, Eddie Korn, Wayne VanMeter, Bucky Smith, Norman Pope, Ted Shelton, Dale Orihood, Roger Allen, Norman Preston, Dick Tracey and Dave Crome.

Baseball was selected as the spring sport for the SCO League at its annual spring meeting in Circleville last month.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

OBITUARY
There is a path that all must tread
From earth to endless day;
A path of bloom, or one of joy,
We call "The Silent Way."
Upon the never-failing arm
Our burdens we should lay;
That we may pass with calm repose
Along "The Silent Way."
Another life on earth is ended—another spirit has taken its flight to the Great Beyond.
George McClellan Cline was one of seven children, six sons and one daughter, in the family circle of William Harrison and Anna Wilson Cline, all of whom have preceded him in death, except one brother, William Cline of Sabinia. He was born September 28, 1880. To this union five sons and four daughters were born: Roy of East
Monroe; Esty, who lives on the Snow-hill Pike, in Fayette County; where Mr.
Cline was residing at the time of his death; Alva, Elba and Alonzo, who live on the Bush Road in Fayette County;
Mrs. Minnie Stearns, wife of Mr. Haines and Mrs. Verna Hansen, all of Sabinia; and Mrs. Allie Jarrel of Bloomington.
Besides his brother, five sons and four daughters, he leaves to mourn his passing, 12 grandchildren, 21 great-grandchildren, and other relatives and a host of friends.
In these beautiful lines of the poet,
may those who mourn today, find comfort and inspiration:
"Tis hard to say, "God knoweth best,"
When one we love is laid to rest."
To say, "Thy will, not mine, be done."
When life is over for some dear one.
Yet, as we journey on through life
And note the worry and the strife, We'll find sweet peace within our breast.
When we can say, "God knoweth best."
The many kindnesses shown by relatives, friends and neighbors are gratefully acknowledged and deeply appreciated by the family.

TB and Health Meet

society had collected $3,115.03 from the sale of Christmas seals, which was below that of the preceding year. The balance on hand as of April 1, 1951, was $1,938, according to the report.

A year ago the balance was $2,802.07 from which $201.10 was borrowed for operating expenses during the seal drive. This left a balance of $2,600.97, on April 1, 1950.

This balance added to $3,115.03 from the seal sale and a $170.27 refund from the national and state organizations brought the total to $5,885.27.

The expenses for the year were $3,947.56, which left the 1951 balance of $1,938.71.

Gretchen Darlington, head nurse for the county health department, reported there were 151 patients checked at the six TB clinics held during the past year. They were referred to the clinic by local physicians or from X-ray checks. Of this total, eight positive cases were uncovered, with six going to Mt. Logan Sanatorium and the other two receiving treatment by physicians.

There were four mass X-ray clinics held during the year, with three of the cases being uncovered there. Of the 2,065 persons who had chest X-rays besides the three positive cases, there were three suspected cases and 58 persons who were found to have either a heart condition, a tumor or some other ailment.

J. Paul Strevey, county secretary of the TB Association reported on the Mt. Logan Sanatorium.

Need for Liaison Worker

"For some time, now, there has been need for a liaison worker to help in the rehabilitation of the patients at Mt. Logan," Strevey said. The worker would see that conditions between the patient and his home were alright and would also help out if any difficulties arose between the two.

"The board of directors refuse to hire such a worker," she said. A bill before the state legislature concerning the revision of county health office distribution was also discussed by Strevey.

The bill would cut out some of the health departments which have overlapping jurisdiction. "Some counties have as many as six health departments," Strevey explained.

Following the regular business meeting, Homer Miller, county commissioner, accepted the title to the fluoroscope from Vannorsdall, the association president. Those who attended the luncheon and meeting were: Mrs. Minnette Fritts, Miss Gretchen Darlington, Paul Strevey, Rev. Harold Braden, Ralph Milton, Clifford Hughes, Homer Miller, Ullric Acton, Stephen Brown, William Junk, Forrest Tipton, John Bath, C. E. McCaskey, R. E. Whiteside, Mrs. Norma Campbell, Miss Norma Dadds, Robert Olinger, Robert Brubaker, Miss Lillie Henkle, Mrs. Gladys Moore, Mrs. Homer Bireley and Miss Rosiland Burris and Ellsworth Vannorsdall.

BEER SALES COSTLY

PORTSMOUTH — Clemmer Easter, 50, was fined $500 and costs when he pleaded guilty to selling beer illegally.

CHAPTER FORTY-EIGHT
AFTER SUPPER Quint directed Foby to close the taproom. A wind had blown up in the late afternoon, bringing rain that was half sleet. "No one'll come in, a night like this." He made his round of the sheds early. Then he joined Janet in the parlor.

She looked up from her work, flashed him a little smile. "I was wishing someone would come—it was so queer to sit here alone!" He felt a quick compunction; he was letting her be too much alone. He took his pipe, filled it, sat down in a chair by the hearth where Foby had lighted a fire. But their talk was desultory and for all the glow of the kindled logs and the candlelight, the room had a lonely look. He remembered the pleasantness of those other evenings which now seemed a long time ago—Jenny and Rhoda and Becky all here, busy over their sewing, the bright pieces of the material which was to go into Rhoda's new dress scattered over the room. Jennet's music—he realized he had not heard her play or sing for weeks. What was on her mind? Surely not the Mohawk—a girl's fancy couldn't live long on the few meetings the two of them had had. He wished it might be Erron on whom she was dwelling.

Presently there came a tapping that wasn't sleet. An insistent tap-tap on the bolted kitchen door. Quint sprang up. "A neighbor, perhaps, in trouble." He took one of the candles and went to the kitchen. Jennet at his heels.

But it was Richard Darby who faced him when he opened the door. "Ah, Uncle, we must ask your hospitality again! Clothing and a warm bed for this poor lady." He stepped aside and Rhoda appeared out of the darkness.

"Rhoda!" The shock in Quint's voice was for her appearance. Her cape was soaked with rain; rain dripped from her hair which hung white and untidy; she was deathly white and shivering with chill and her face was terror. "Come into shelter!"

She took a step forward, then hesitated, her eyes with their dark haunted look going past Quint and over the warm, familiar room.

Truman Will Run Party Boss Thinks

WASHINGTON, April 3 — (P)—Senator Anderson (D-NM) predicted today President Truman will run again in 1952.

Anderson heads the Democratic senatorial campaign committee and served for a time as acting chairman of the Democratic national committee during last year's election campaign.

The New Mexico senator told a reporter he interprets as a decision to seek another term Mr. Truman's announcement last week that he has made up his mind about 1952 plans but won't tell anybody about it.

"I still think the president is going to run again," Anderson said. "It is my guess the president will permit the election of convention delegates pledged to him."

"Of course, if he decides at that time not to run again, he could thank the delegates and suggest that they support some other nominee."

Kefauver and Book

NEW YORK, April 3 — (P)—The story of the Senate crime investigating committee will be told in a book by the chairman, Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.).

Doubleday and Company, Inc., announced last night that the book, titled "Crime in America," will be published July 12.

Quint took a firm hold of her arm. "You must get into bed at once," Rhoda. Jennet took Rhoda's other arm. "I'll help you get out of these wet clothes. Oh, we're so glad you've come, Aunt Rhoda!"

Again Rhoda hesitated, then, without a word to either of them, let them help her up the stairs. Quint left her in Jennet's care, returned to the kitchen. Richard stood there in the scarlet of the British uniform.

"Now, what does this mean?" "What an unnamable tone, Uncle! When I have risked my life to escort your wife back to you. She could have gone with my father and friends to Montreal and from there on to England, not most curiously she chose to return to this humble tavern of yours. I couldn't do otherwise than offer her my protection. And a trying experience the journey has been—the last twelve hours on your river and oaring is not my favorite pastime! If you have appreciation of my kindness, you'll give me some brandy at once and a change of apparel!"

War hadn't changed his insolence, thought Quint, grimly. He nodded toward a cupboard in a corner. "You'll find clothes there." Then he went to the taproom, shook. Toby awake. "Get up—ride my horse to Mistress Sabrina's. Tell her I need her—need her desperately. Hurry!"

He went back to the kitchen with the brandy, set it and a glass on the table. Richard had changed his clothes; he poured himself a generous drink.

"To the end of this tiresome war, I am sure you share my sentiments." Quint demanded, "You left before Newark was burned?" "Burned, you say?" But there was no horror in the question. "How fortunate that my father had left it. He is to be given a title and estates when he reaches England. Sir Alec Darby—hasn't that a fine sound to your ears? By the way, William Pettipiece, who was your guest here for several weeks, is also on his way to England to be rewarded by the King for the exceptionally good maps of this frontier which he made while he was with you. A pity the King does not know of your hospitality toward him—and certain British officers—he might set you up well, too."

Quint reddened at this last, though he could not deny he deserved it for his stubbornness that had made him refuse to believe his suspicions of the old man. At the same time his hand clenched and lifted to smash hard into Richard Darby's sneering face. But at that moment Jennet came into the room.

She spoke to Quint without giving her brother a glance. "Aunt Rhoda has fallen asleep. Uncle Quint. And she's stopped shaking."

Richard stepped forward. "Then, Sister, you can give some attention to me? Food—my stomach is hollow."

Jennet did not answer him or look at him, but she did go to the fire to stir it to a hotter blaze. Quint went into the taproom and Richard followed him, the brandy bottle and glass in his hands. He poured himself another drink. "I must ask you not to speak of my visit here, Uncle. For reasons we need not go into now."

Quint threw him a quick scornful look. "Nor at any time—you're deserting."

Richard shrugged. "Isn't desertion a daily practice in your army? I did not find army life to my liking. Or life in Newark. I plan now to go back to New York City. I'll impose upon your hospitality only until I find some means of travel more comfortable than on foot and in an open boat. Meanwhile, food and some rest."

Jennet, silent, brought a plate of food to him. Quint indicated one of the bunks he might use and followed Jennet back to the kitchen.

Jennet's eyes were bright with angry tears. "Uncle Quint, my father must have been horrible to Aunt Rhoda—to make her willing to expose herself to escape. Oh, he can be so smooth and cruel and mean, all at the same time!"

"I've sent Toby for Mistress Sabrina. She'll come."

Good Hope PTA Has Busy Meet

Several To Attend District Meeting

Musical numbers and readings made up the program at the regular meeting of the Good Hope PTA Monday evening.

Mrs. Dana Kellenberger opened the meeting with a reading, followed by the group singing four numbers: "Abide With Me," "Home On The Range," "Darling Nellie Gray" and "Faith Of Our Fathers." Mrs. Herbert Hoppes accompanied the group at the piano.

A list of persons who plan to attend the district meeting at Norwood Friday April 13 and the Achievement Day celebration at Bloomingburg April 20 was made.

The new coffee urn which was recently purchased was used for the first time when refreshments were served.

A nomination committee was appointed to draw up a slate for next month's election of officers. Those appointed to the committee were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dunn and Mrs. Willard Bonham.

Three piano solos by June Overly, Nancy McFadden and Susanne Kellenberger opened the program. They were followed by Mrs. William McFadden, who gave a reading, "Be Careful What You Say" and Mrs. Emerald Solars who gave a reading, "How To Be A Fool."

Herbert Dunn then sang three selections, accompanied by his daughter, Jeannie. He sang, "The Old Fashioned Song," "We Are Not Always Glad When We Smile" and "Beyond The Sunset." The second number was a composition written by Mr. Dunn and Jeannie.

The program closed with Jeannie Dunn playing a medley of popular songs.

Members of the senior class will be in charge of the next meeting.

Funeral Services for Mrs. Downs Were Held

Funeral services for Mrs. Emma Della Downs were held at 2 P. M. Monday at the Gerstner Funeral Home, with Rev. Arthur George in charge.

Rev. George read the Scripture, offered prayer, delivered the sermon and read a memoir.

Mrs. Arthur George and Mrs. Wilbur Knisley sang the hymns "Beyond the Sunset," "In the Garden" and "I Won't Have to Cross Jordan Alone."

Pallbearers were Harold, Harley, Robert, Galen and Carl Penwell and David Downs.

Burial was made in the family lot of the Good Hope Cemetery.

Don Mathews Elected 4-H Club President

Members of a new 4-H Club elected Donald Mathews president at their first meeting last Friday evening at the Wilson School.

Other officers elected to posts in the club are: Robert Jenkins, vice president; Donald Minshall, secretary-treasurer; John Langley, news reporter; Roger Jenkins, recreation leader.

Albert Cobb, assistant county agent, presided during the election of the officers.

Donald Mathews will be the host for the club's next meeting, to be announced later.

Magician Here To Predict R-H Headline

Can you predict what the headline will be on the front page of the Record-Herald April 11?

Maybe you can't, but Raymond Stephens, Washington C. H. magician, claims he can.

If he succeeds in guessing what the headline will be it will be his third such successful prediction. Twice before he has predicted the headline correctly.

Stephens said he will make his prediction either Wednesday or Thursday, and will place it in a "prediction box" in a Craig Brothers Department Store window.

The box will be opened April 11, when a big magic show will be held in the Washington C. H. High School auditorium under the sponsorship of the Alpha Circle of the Child Conservation League. The show will get underway at 8 P. M.

Inside the box will be two other predictions which Stephens claims will come true.

Proceeds of the magic show will go for the numerous civic endeavors of the Child Conservation League (CCL) such as Red Cross, Christmas, Good Cheer and Thanksgiving baskets and the Salvation Army.

We-Dood-It Club Works on Projects

Members of the We-Dood-It 4-H Club worked on their club books at the third meeting of the group at the home of the club's president, Kay Morter, Sunday afternoon.

Following the meeting and club work, supervised by the club's advisor, Mrs. Gene Mark, the hostess served refreshments.

Hugh Wilson will demonstrate the proper way to show a calf at a showing during the next meeting, which will be held at his home Sunday May 13.

Children's Home To Buy Pasteurized Milk from Now On

Members of the Child Welfare Board for Fayette County voted Monday afternoon in favor of the children's home purchasing pasteurized milk for youths at the home.

And the children's home, located on the Devalon Road, got its first delivery of 70 quarts of pasteurized milk Tuesday morning. Regular deliveries will be made from now on.

Plans to buy pasteurizing equipment were discarded, and money set aside for that purpose will in all probability be used for other needs at the home.

Cows at the home furnish milk, which will be sold to milk dealers from a milk room to be fixed up especially for this purpose.

Curtis C. Incho, architect from Columbus, was to have been at the meeting to discuss plans for improving the children's home, but he was unable to be present.

Those present included Mrs. Richard Willis, Willard Ferrill, Willard Story and Percie Kennel.

Firebug Confesses

The fires were brought under control about midnight.

YOUTH CONFESSES

BROOKHAVEN, Miss., April 3 —(AP)— A 14-year-old Boy Scout who liked to watch "big blazes" has admitted starting several fires, one of them causing $300,000 damage, District Attorney L. S. McLaren of McComb said today.

McLaren said no charges had been filed and that the investigation was being continued. The boy was in his custody.

He told McLaren and Fire Marshal R. L. Ferguson he set the Sunday night fire, another fire on Easter which destroyed two buildings at a loss of $300,000, three auto fires, a residence fire, and a garage fire.

His questioners said the boy told them that he "liked to see big fires and watch big blazes."

WIDOW FILES CHARGE

XENIA—Minnie Anna Thomas, widow of Phillip Thomas who was killed by an automobile while walking across the street, has filed charges of second degree manslaughter against John Edward O'Bryant, 33, of Jamestown. He pleaded innocent and bail was fixed at $1,000.

Mrs. Alice Wood Dies in Lebanon

Mrs. Alice Wood, 87, widow of William A. Wood, who died several years ago, died Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock at the Carr Rest Home in Lebanon.

Mrs. Wood had been a patient in the Lebanon rest home for about one year. Prior to that she had made her home with her niece, Mrs. Robert Petry, in Middletown.

Mrs. Wood spent much of her life in the Johnson's Crossing community, where she and her husband resided on a farm for many years.

Following her husband's death, she spent a number of years in Washington C. H., before going to Middletown.

A number of nieces and nephews survive.

Funeral arrangements are in charge of the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home here.

Supt. Brown Explains Minimum Salary Law

Supt. Stephen Brown explained the proposed minimum salary schedule for teachers at a regular meeting of the City-wide PTA council, held in the home economics room of the high school Monday night.

A nominating committee, consisting of Mrs. Howard Thompson, chairman, Kenneth Chaney, Mrs. Forrest Ellis, Mrs. Larry Leeth and Mrs. Ray French, was named to present a slate of officers which will be voted on at the next meeting of the council.

The PTA council indicated that it is 100 percent behind the Red Cross blood program.

Mrs. L. C. Scott, president, presided over the meeting.
